CHARACTER OF THE LATE GOV. WOLCOTT.

MR. FENNO,

Please to insert the following in your useful paper. It is an extract of the Rev. Mr. Backus's sermon preached on the 3d inst. at Litchfield, in Connecticut, at the funeral of that distinguished patriot and statesman, the late GOVERNOR WOLCOTT.

After giving the character of King Hezekiah in an elegant stile, the preacher proceeds—

"How far any of these traits in the character of good Hezekiah corresponded with the character of that venerable man whose funeral obsequies we have this day assembled to perform, the impartial public will now decide; sensible that the eulogy which exceeds general sentiment is not eulogy but censure. I had rather fall short of a man's true merits on such an occasion than be guilty of fulsome panegyric.

Should it be said that our late chief magistrate deserves an application in many respects of the character now contemplated, his enemies cannot say it savors of servile adulation; it is a character of which they are unambitious, a character disgusting to the taste of the age, not formed on the ruling principles of this world. A Jereboam leading away a nation from ancient habits and religious institutions, or a Jehu driving furiously, is more adapted to modern taste. An Aristrides, a Numa Pompilius, an Alfred and a Manco Capac are forgotten in the noise of a Pericles, a Sylla, a Marius, Cataline or Cæsar of later days. But it is still a truth, that it is more glorious to moralize and happify, than to render terrible and to aggrandize, a people.

By his death the state is called to mourn one of the real friends of the simplicity and purity of her ancient constitutions. In the language of the prophet we may say, that "one of the strong rods is broken and withered." Descended from ancestors distinguished among the first settlers of New-England, Gov. Wolcott was a real, not a theoretic republican. He reverenced and embraced the religion of his country.

He was educated at Yale-College, and qualified himself for the profession of physic; but being appointed sheriff of this county, he held that office 14 years, when he was elected a member of the council, and made a chief justice of the common pleas, and judge of probates. In 1786 he was appointed lieutenant governor, and in May 1796, was promoted to the chief magistracy. He filled all his offices with uncommon dignity. During the struggle of the American revolution that tried men's souls he was the calm unshaken friend of his country's cause. He was a member of that ever memorable Congress which declared our independence; and in the course of the war repeatedly marched at the head of large detachments of the militia, as a general officer to repel the invasions of the enemy.

In the discharge of these several offices, integrity and firmness were the leading features of his character.* He was an eminent exemplification of the *vir tenax propositi of the bard of Venusia. Although he possessed a strong mind, capable of deep and thorough investigation, his abilities were not of that brilliant cast which have often ruined men in popular governments. He always seemed more desirous to do his duty than to shine, to be useful than to dazzle. His natural modesty, and, what is more, his unblemished integrity, led him to horrid conceptions of the arts of political demagogy, the sin that so easily besets men in free governments. He never stooped to court the suffrage of any man; he blushed at the tho't of being the man of the people in the modern sense; and to the honour of the state it may be said, the suggestions of malice have never shaken their confidence in his integrity and patriotism. By his death the true interests of science have lost a strenuous defender; virtue, religion, and good men a sincere friend. He reverenced and loved public worship and divine ordinances; was a tried, but not an ostentatious friend of the gospel ministry. He sensibly felt every attempt to depart from the purity of christian practice and morals; he set his face like a flint against all the specious sophistry of new political theories, and the madness of infidel fanaticism. Rather than flatter or licence the vices of a community, like a popular sycophant, he was willing to put his continuance in office at hazard, and his reputation in jeopardy, that he might discharge a good conscience,

For several days before his death the shattered remains of a once noble mind and vigorous body were devoted continually to God; his very breath appeared to be prayer. With all the splendor of his station and of his well earn'd fame, he was not ashamed to pray in the expressive language of the publican "God be merciful to me a sinner;" until after many painful struggles he fell asleep.

O death! in what a mortifying light doth thy power put the little, little glory of this diminutive world. To what insignificance do human honors dwindle before the grandeur of Eternity!

Notwithstanding the death of such a character is a grievous loss, especially under the present aspect of divine providence, and the perilous situation of this country. Such tried characters are "the salt of the earth," the pillars of our national existence. The presence, firmness, councils, prayers and examples of such fathers should be esteemed "the chariots of our Israel and the horsemen thereof."

* A man tenacious of his purpose.

And Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the chiefest of the sepulchres of the sons of David: and all Judah and Jerusalem did him honor at his death.

"When Justice calls, 'tis cruelty to save."

The respite of the execution of O'Hara, which is probably intended as the prelude to his pardon, has excited the surprise, and for myself I am not ashamed to say, the indignation, of many citizens as good, as virtuous and as humane, as those who have exerted themselves to defeat the laws and justice of their country.—To use the sentiments and I believe the expressions of the court at the trial of O'Hara, he has been guilty of a most wanton and unprovoked murder; and there is not a country on earth, governed by laws, where he would not suffer the punishment of death. And yet, in this country of reformation, he is to be turned again into society, washed by the magic operation of a pardon, as pure and unspotted in the eye of the law, as any of us, and entitled to as many privileges and an equal rank with the most meritorious citizen in the community—This too is to be done, without a pretension that his conviction or sentence has been improper or mistaken; without a suggestion that any circumstances of palliation attended his offence or any discoveries in his favor have been made since his trial. Is this justice, either by human or divine law? Is it prudence and policy? Is it even benevolence or humanity? Is it not rather madness, folly, and cruelty to those who may be the future victims of the diabolical revenge of this villain? For a mind more bent upon mischief, more maliciously wicked and depraved than O'Hara's discovered itself in this business, has seldom been exhibited—Is not this pardon particularly dangerous and improper at this time, when a man can scarcely walk the streets without having a pistol placed at his head, and his pockets rifled? What is the lesson held out, in broad characters, to these ruffians? Simply this—If you rob and are detected, it is an heinous crime, and you will be severely punished: but if you are daring and wise enough to murder the man you have robbed, you not only quiet a material witness, but if you should be detected by any other means, you will escape with impunity, by the good natured infatuation of a certain class of our citizens—Don't steal a shilling or the vengeance of the law will overwhelm you, but add murder to the crime and your escape is certain. We have, in the absurd spirit of reformation, that now seems to prevail, so inverted the order of justice and nature, that murder is the only offence for which there is no punishment in Pennsylvania. I attended the trial of O'Hara, and am acquainted with all the evidence and circumstances of his case, and will venture to assert if he is an object deserving of the executive interference, if the course of justice and the law is to be arrested for him, no case can possibly happen or be supposed in which the punishment assigned by law for murder should be inflicted and consequently the law itself is worthy of derision and contempt, and will soon meet with it from rogues as well as from honest men—Let the governor remember, that it is his duty to administer the laws justly, impartially, and firmly—That he should not suffer himself to be driven from that duty by clamor and importunity, however improper and indelicate, nor expose every citizen of the commonwealth to the unchecked outrages of a murderer to gratify enthusiastic and theoretical opinions in direct contempt and opposition to that law and government he is sworn to support. He has too long held the station he now occupies to be unacquainted with the facility with which petitioners may be procured for the most shameful and improper requests. He well knows that if every convict is to be pardoned for whom petitioners, and respectable ones too, may be had, the penal code may as well be destroyed at once, and our criminal courts be closed forever—Some men have an unaccountable foudness for this kind of officious interference, and are gratified with having their names handed about as friendly to the unfortunate. The consequences of such lenity they never consider, and feel no kind of responsibility for them. In short, they consider it as a matter of course to sign every paper that is handed to them under the name of a petition—All the mischief that may result from the compliance with the petition, falls on the governor; all the credit is assumed to themselves. It is time the exercise of this pardoning power was a little enquired into; and I doubt not the result would be, a conviction that it is improperly placed in a single man, without any restriction or modification; for it can scarcely be expected that any one man can resist the kind of arguments and influence that are generally used on these occasions—Where penal laws are mild, they should be certain.

BECCARIA.

For the Gazette of the United States.

AS there are few political duties more important than those of elections, and as it is essential to the purity of our elections, that none but natives qualified agreeably to the Constitution of Pennsylvania, or aliens qualified according to the laws of the United States, and the constitution and laws of Pennsylvania, should exercise the rights of an election at our election, it may not be deemed improper, at a time when our Legislature are about to pass a law on the subject, to bring into public view the different modes of naturalization, and the other qualifications necessary to entitle a person to vote—It may at least serve to aid an investigation of the subject; for which purpose it will be necessary to divide the inhabitants of this state into three classes—to wit:

1st. Natives.

2d. Emigrants, citizens of some other of the United States or North Western Territory—and

3d. Emigrants from Foreign States.

It may be proper here to premise as a general rule equally applicable to all, that there are are five things essential to entitle any person to vote—an elector must be—1st. a freeman—2d. of the age of 21 years or upwards—3d. a citizen—4th. he must have resided in the state 2 years next before the election—and 5th, he must within that time have paid a state or county tax, assessed at least 6 months before the election—from this view of the subject it appears to stand as follow:

I. A native to be entitled to vote, must be a freeman of the age of 21 years or upwards—have resided 2 years next preceding the election within the state, and paid a state or county tax assessed, at least, 6 months before his exercising the rights of an elector. See Con. Penn. Art. 3. Sec. 1.

II. Emigrants, citizens of any other of the United States, or North Western Territory, must be freemen of the age of 21 years or upwards—have resided 2 years next before the election within the state, and have paid a state or county tax, assessed, at least, 6 months before the election—and

III. Emigrants from foreign states must be freemen of the age of 21 years or upwards—have resided within the state 2 years next before the election—and paid a state or county tax assessed, at least 6 months before the election—And still they are not entitled to vote unless they have been naturalized according to some one of the following regulations:

1st. They must have been naturalized agreeably to the constitution and laws of Pennsylvania, existing between the 28th Sept. 1776 and 26th March 1790—Which provisions required 1 years residence within the state, and an oath or affirmation of allegiance to the same—See 42d sec. of the then frame of government—or

2d. They must be naturalized agreeably to an act of Congress of the 26th March 1790, which declares—That any alien being a free white person who shall have resided within the limits and under the jurisdiction of the United States for the term of 2 years, may be admitted to become a citizen thereof on application to any common law court of record, in any one of the states wherein he shall have resided for the term of one year at least, and making proof to the satisfaction of such court that he is a person of good character, and taking the oath or affirmation prescribed by law to support the constitution of the United States—or

3d. They must be naturalized according to an act of Congress of the 25th January 1795—Which declares that any alien being a free white person, may be admitted to become a citizen of the United States, or any of them, on the following conditions and not otherwise:

First—He shall have declared on oath or affirmation, before the supreme, superior, district or circuit court of some one of the states, or of the territories north-west or south of the river Ohio, or a circuit or district court of the United States, three years, at least, before his admission, that it was, bona fide, his intention to become a citizen of the United States, and to renounce forever all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly, by name, the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whereof such alien may, at the time, be a citizen or subject.

Secondly—He shall, at the time of his application to be admitted, declare on oath or affirmation, before some one of the courts aforesaid, that he has resided within the United States, 5 years at least, and within the state or territory, where such court is at the time held, one year at least; that he will support the constitution of the United States; and that he doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to every foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whatever, and particularly by name, the prince, potentate, state or sovereignty whereof he was before a citizen or subject.

Thirdly—The court admitting such alien shall be satisfied that he is entitled to the benefit of this act.

Fourthly—In case the alien, applying to be admitted to citizenship, shall have borne any hereditary title, or been of any of the orders of nobility, in the kingdom or state from which he came, he shall, in addition to the above requisites, make an express renunciation of his title or order of nobility, in the Court to which his application shall be made; all of which proceeding shall be recorded in the said Court.—This law also declares "that aliens residing within the limits and under the jurisdiction of the United States, at the time of its passing, may be admitted to become citizens, on their declaring on oath or affirmation, in some one of the Courts aforesaid, that they have resided two years at least, within and under the jurisdiction of the same, and one year, at least, within the state or territory where such Court is at the time held; that they will support the Constitution of the United States, and that they doth absolutely and entirely renounce and abjure all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign prince, potentate, state or sovereignty, whereof they were before citizens or subjects—They shall also renounce any title of nobility which they may have held—all of which proceedings shall be recorded in the said Court. It is also provided in each of these laws, That the children of persons duly naturalized, dwelling within the United States, being under the age of 21 years, at the time of such naturalization, shall also be considered as citizens of the United States—And the children of citizens of the United States, that may be born out of the limits of the United States, shall be considered as natural born citizens—provided that the right of citizenship shall not descend to persons whose fathers have never been resident within the United States: And provided also, that no person heretofore proscribed by any state, shall be admitted a citizen as aforesaid, except by an act of the Legislature in which such person was proscribed.

It will be observed, that the operation of the law of Congress of the 26th March, 1790, is repealed by the law of 25th January, 1795, except as it relates to aliens then resident within the United States. From this statement of the subject, it appears, that if an emigrant from any foreign state hath been naturalized agreeably to any one of the foregoing rules, he stands upon the same footing as a native, and is entitled to vote, on having resided two years within the state, and paid a state or county tax assessed at least six months before the election

A PENNSYLVANIAN.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 26.

Mr. Livingston, agreeably to notice, moved that a committee be appointed to bring in a bill in addition to the act for the relief and protection of American seamen—agreed.

Mr. Griswold asked and obtained leave of absence, for his colleague, Mr. Edmond, for 20 days.

Mr. Kittera obtained leave also for his colleague, Mr. Gallatin for 6 days.

Mr. Sitgreaves obtained leave of absence for 10 days.

Mr. Dwight Foster, from the committee of claims to whom was referred the bill from the Senate for the relief of Wm. Imlay, made a report recommending the bill to be passed, which was twice read and committed for Thursday.

Mr. Harper called for the order of the day on the bill prescribing the mode of taking evidence in cases of contested elections, which motion being acceded to, the house resolved itself into a committee of the whole accordingly, Mr. Kittera in the chair, and after discussing the subject for some time the committee rose and had leave to sit again.

Mr. Sewall from the committee to whom was referred that part of the Presidents' speech which related to the protection of commerce and the defence of our country, made a report in part. The committee stated it as their opinion that legislative provision ought to be made in order to distinguish between cases in which it was lawful for merchants to arm, and in which it would be unlawful. They therefore report a bill, in which it is made the duty of masters or owners of vessels to report their intention of arming their vessels, and his duty to inspect them to see that they are not improperly armed, and to require bonds for those arms being properly used.

The bill was on motion read a second time, and ordered to be committed to a committee of the whole. On the speaker's making the usual enquiry, "for what day shall it be made the order?"

Mr. Sewall answered Monday next.

Mr. Nicholas the first Monday in February.

According to the rules of the house, the question was taken on the most distant day, and carried 40 to 37.

Mr. Shepard rose, soon after the question was decided, and said he had been mistaken in his vote; that he understood the day of order to have been the first Monday in January. He moved, therefore, for a re-consideration of the question.

The motion was seconded (which is necessary) by a member, who voted in the affirmative of the question. In consequence of this motion a very warm debate, of considerable length took place, which is deferred till to-morrow. It was supported by Messrs. Pinckney, Otis, Rutledge, Brookes, Isaac Parker, Hartley, Sewall, Dana, Thatcher, J. Williams and Allen. It was opposed by Messrs. Harper, M'Dowell, Nicholas, Baldwin, N. Smith, S. Smith. At length, the question for re-consideration was taken, and negatived 44 to 38.

Adjourned.

The bill to make compensation to certain members of the late Legislature, was read a second time and agreed to.

The House, agreeably to the order of the day, resolved itself into a committee of the whole, on the bill declaring certain roads within this Commonwealth, to be state roads, when, after some time spent, the Committee rose, reported progress, and asked leave to sit again, which was granted for Wednesday next.

A petition from a number of the citizens of Germantown and its vicinity, praying the Governor may be authorised to incorporate a company to make an artificial road from the city to the twelve mile stone, on the Reading road or to Reading, was presented, read and referred to Messrs. Leib, W. M'Clay, Gartner, Bellew and Sterrett.

The Committee on unfinished business made further report in part.

The Committee on the petition of some of the citizens of Mifflin county, praying the appointment of a Trustee for the county, made a report in favour of the petitioners.

The bill to compensate the members of the late Legislature who were prevented from receiving their dues by the abrupt rising of the Legislature, was read a third time and passed.

A petition from Francis Johnston, Receiver-General of the land office, stating that he had been obliged to disburse his own monies for the employment of clerks, as the allowance made by the state was incompetent, and praying that such monies may be refunded to him, and that an additional allowance may be made for the employment of a sufficient number of clerks to transact the public business, was presented, read and referred.

The report of the committee on the petition of a committee of the Directors of the Bank of Pennsylvania, was called up for a second reading, and the House agreed that they should have leave to bring in a bill agreeably to the prayer of their petition.

The House adjourned till Wednesday.

Continuation of Late Foreign News,
(By the Eliza, arrived at New-York, from Bourdeaux.)

Advices from Rome ſtate that the Brother of Buonaparte has been received here with uncommon reſpect and ſplendor. The ſeven apoſtolic antichambers were filled with guards and nobleſſe to do honor to the repreſentative of the French nation. The papal miniſter, when he received him, had in his hand a book, containing a ratification of the treaty of peace of Tolentino. The pope received him with great good will—he is lodged at the palace Salviati. His holineſs has preſented ſix fine horſes—the ſecretary of State, two, and prince Chigi, four. He, with his wife and ſiſter, are loaded with honors.

An article from Baſle mentions that the prince of Conde has received the laſt remittance which ha is to receive from England, amounting to 80,000 florins—His army has proceeded to Ruſſia.

The French miniſter of the interior has notified the national inſtitute that the tranſported deputies are no longer French citizens—therefore the places of Carnot, Paſtoret, Sicard and Fontaines are vacant, and are to be ſupplied by new appointments.

Gen. Moreau is at Paris—out of employment.

The directory have iſſued out an arret prohibiting the wearing of any religious habits in the Belgic departments.

It is officially announced in France that the Congreſs at Liſle is entirely at an end—The French Commiſſioners, Treillard and Bonnier left that city on the 17th October with military honours.

A Bourdeaux paper of Oct 24, mentions an epidemic then prevailing among the cats in that city. An officer of health had opened the body of one to find the cauſe, and diſcovered un poleton de vers—a knot of worms. We have not been informed whether any perſon in this country has inveſtigated the cauſe of the malady among the cats. The exten of the peſtilence among them is a curious phenomenon.

From the Commercial, Political, and Literary Journal of Bourdeaux—October 25.

Extract from the conditions by which the Executive Directory cedes the veſſels belonging to the Republic to private adventurers.

Such frigates, ſloops of war and light veſſels as ſhall be deemed uſeleſs to the Republic, ſhall be chartered to cruiſe for four months, reckoning from the day of their departure, to adventurers whoſe probity and credit is well eſtabliſhed.

Thoſe veſſels ſhall be completely equipped at the expence of the republic; the charterer ſhall only be accountable for the victualing for the whole cruiſe, and for the advances and wages to the crews.

The expenſes attending going into port, and victualling, ſhall be defrayed by the charterer—thoſe of repairs, maſts, rigging, ſails, arms, warlike ſtores, and every thing relative to the veſſel itſelf, &c. ſhall be defrayed by the republic

The captains and officers muſt be taken from thoſe in actual ſervice, and be choſen with the approbation of the miniſter of marine.

The charterer ſhall point out the cruiſe, ſhall chooſe the deſtination of the prizes, and the places at which the veſſels are to touch: but with the abſolute ſanction of the miniſter. The ſame to be obſerved with reſpect to the inſtructions.

The net proceeds of the prizes ſhall be divided as follows: one third for the crew, and of the remaining two thirds the republic ſhall have one third.

The laws reſpecting the conſervation, the management, ſales of the prizes, final ſettlement, and diviſion among the crew, ſhall be followed conformably to the uſage and cuſtoms of privateering.

The ſales ſhall be made under the inſpection of the charterer, but in the preſence of a perſon appointed by the crew, a comptroller, or in his abſence, a perſon apppointed by the marine, and of the conſul or viceconſul, in neutral or friendly ports.

They ſhall be ſold at two months credit, for draughts, properly endorſed by ſubſtantial houſes, domicelled at the place of ſale, and accepted by a commercial houſe at Paris. Should the charterer or his agents deviate from theſe conditions, they ſhall be anſwerable for the conſequences.

There ſhall be paid one ſol per livre additional by the higheſt bidders, to defray the expenſes of the ſale, unloading and ſtorage, &c.

The charterer is accountable for the recovery—He ſhall be bound to produce to the miniſter of marine a legal ſettlement within a month after the bills are given in payment, become due, to place the proportion belonging to the republic in the cheſts of the invalids; and within fifteen days after to produce vouchers for the payment of the third, in the hands of the crews.

The charterers will deduct from the third belonging to the crews on the proceeds of the firſt prices, the advances made them; they will alſo retain from the part of the firſt prices belonging to the republic, the amount of the diſburſements and advances made on her account, whether in fitting out or in touching at ports; provided, that at the time of fitting out, the naval ſtore houſes are unprovided with the articles which the republic undertakes to furniſh, they are authoriſed to procure them.

The charterer ſhall have the privilege of taking in the ſtore houſes of the republic, proviſions which are not in uſe, upon conditions of replacing them in kind, and the ſame in quality and quantity within four months.

The charterer is allowed a commiſſion of two per cent on the groſs amount of prizes, as is cuſtomary.

The charterer to give ſecurity in faſt property. Should the veſſel be taken or wrecked it will be the loſs of the republic, but the captain muſt undergo a trial.

If during the fitting out or the term of charter, peace ſhould take place between the powers at war, and the charterers not made whole for their advances, the veſſels &c. ſhall be at their diſpoſal for a commercial expedition as they may think proper; any diſputes which may ariſe, either between the republic and the charterers, or their captain and the crews, ſhall be determined by referees. &c. &c.

N. B. The above are the principal conditions in conformity to which ſeveral veſſels have already been chartered in different ports—the gazettes of ſome of the ſea-ports have inſerted others which are not correct—and which may be productive of errors ſuch as follow:

Art. 12. The net proceeds of the prizes ſhall be divided in three equal parts, the firſt for the republic, the ſecond for the crew, the third for the fitter out.

Art. 15. The funds ariſing from the ſales of the prizes, ſhall be depoſited under three keys, in the cheſt of the treaſury of the invalids, in the ports of the republic, and in a cheſt committed to the care of the conſul in neutral ports, one of theſe keys ſhall be given to the adminiſtration of the marine, one to the agent of the crew, the third to the charterer.

Art. 16. As ſoon as a prize is ſettled without waiting for any ſubſequent operation, the funds ſhall be diſtributed immediately by thirds to the concerned.

Art. 21. The charterer ſhall give ſecurity in faſt property, &c. he muſt alſo give ſecurity according to thelaw reſpecting barratry of the charterer.

There are ſeveral other articles equally important, and which are equally erroneous.

ROVEREDO, Sept. 19.

The French troops are in motion on all ſides. The advanced poſts have formed their line on the frontiers of the Auſtrian States. Mantua is in a formidable ſtate—its fortifications are improved and it well proviſioned from the Milaneſe. The chiefs of the Imperial army are alſo very active in preparing for defence. Couriers paſs frequently between General Kerpen and Laudon, and head quarters at Laubach.

BASLE, Sept. 24.

The 15th inſt. arrived Mr. Crawford, Engliſh commiſſary, at Uberlingen and announced to the army of Conde, that they were no longer in the pay of England. On the firſt of October they became the ſoldiers of Ruſſia. A Ruſſian prince is arrived, attended by a commiſſary, ſecretary and two officers. All former officers in the commiſſary's department have been diſmiſſed, and Ruſſians have taken their places.—The emigrants receive from England a gratuity of a half year's pay. This army is to march to Ulm, thence proceed down the Danube to Lintz—thence paſs to Limberg. The troops are to be quartered in Volhynia and Podolia. with the ſame pay as they have had hitherto. They are to be called the corps du Conde, and to be under the orders of the prince.

BERLIN, Sept. 30.

The events of the late revolution in France has cauſed here moſt lively ſenſations. We are but juſt informed of the meaſures taken to eſtabliſh a new republic on the left bank of the Rhine, His royal highneſs the duke of Brunſwick departed immediately to the army of obſervation in Weſtphalia.—Every thing announces that he will take ſerions meaſures, in caſe the French are reſolved to continue the war; he may form an alliance which will enable him to oppoſe this project with his main army.

GENOA, Oct. 3.

General Buonaparte has written a letter to the miniſter Faypoult, which gives great uneaſineſs to the advocates of a union with the Ciſalpine Republic. "I think, ſays he, that wiſe men ſhould correct the conſtitution. I believe that many articles do not well become the banks of the river of Genoa. Perſuade the government to take no deciſive ſtep till I arrive at Genoa in perſon."

PARIS. Freron has not accepted the conſulate of Cagliari.

A letter from Udina of Sept. 23, intimates that the French general had fixed a ſhort term, as the utmoſt limit for continuing the negociations. From the Adige to the Adriatic, the troops were in motion.

THE WEST-INDIES

Are likely ſoon to become the theatre of active military operations. Capt. Saunders arrived at Norfolk from Martinique, in 19 days, brings information of the arrival there of a packet, announces, that a Britiſh fleet of ſix ſail of the line, and 8000 troops, commanded by ſir J. Orde, were immediately to ſail from Great Britain for the Weſt Indies: And the Halifax paper of the 30th. ult. on the authority of a veſſel from the iſlands, mentions the arrival at Barbadoes of 5000 troops. We attach ſome doubts to the laſt part of the above.—However,

Vice-Admiral Sir John Orde, took the command of the Weſt-India reinforcements, October 3d. at Portſmouth.

The Fifth Battalion of the Iriſh Brigade, conſiſting of between 800 and 1000 men, ſailed for Halifax, two days previous to the Mary Parker.

The Medea French frigate has been captured in the Weſt-Indies by the Scourge ſloop of war.

The Britiſh out-ward bound Newfoundland and Quebec, fleets were diſperſed in a gale of wind, Oct. 19 in lat. 46 16, long. 32 11.

THE SHIP GRAND TURK

We have no doubt, from authentic information received yeſterday, is in at Townſhend, a harbour in the diſtrict of Maine, having 9 fathoms of water, and ſheltered from all winds. When ſhe was ſpoken on Wedneſday laſt, her ſituation, was not ſo diſtreſſing as reported. Capt. Magee, writes that they had caught a few days before 420 gallons of water; and that they then had 20 lbs. beef, and ſome biſcuit. We feel they muſt have experienced many inconveniences from the length of their paſſage; and the perils of beating ſo long on our iron-bound coaſt; But as there were plenty of tea and ſpice, and probable, as ſhe touched at the Manilla, rice on board: and as Captain Powers ſupplied them with wine and raiſins, we hope the ſufferings of the crew have been exaggerated.

Many of the towns are following the example of Alexandria, in publiſhing accounts of ſpoliations by the beligerent powers. A letter from Cuſtine, in the Diſtrict of Maine informs, that the loſſes of the Merchants there have been 30,000 dollars by the French, and 3000 by the Engliſh; but none of the latter ſince the treaty.

LOSS OF BRITISH FRIGATE LA TRIBUNE.

Halifax, Nov. 24.

As a melancholy contraſt to the intelligence from Europe, we are impelled, with the utmoſt diſtreſs, to ſtate the dreadful fate of his majeſty's ſhip Tribune, of 44 guns, commanded by capt. Barker. This ſhip, coming into the harbor on Thurſday laſt, ſtruck on the ſhoals off Thrumcap. The tide being ſomewhat ebbed, every exertion to relieve her proved ineffectual, and ſhe remained there until near eleven the ſame night, previous to which time it blew a violent heavy gale nearly E. S. E. The guns, except one for ſignals, and every other weighty article, being thrown overboard, the ſhip thus relieved, fleeted a little before high water, when the gale blew ſtrongeſt; her rudder having been knocked off—the ſhip leaking exceſſively, and every thing in the greateſt confuſion, all attempts to gain the harbor were found impracticable—at this dreadful moment lieutenants Campbell and North, of the Fuſiliers, who had been on board to offer their aſſiſtance, quitted the ſhip, intending to lay under her lee and wait the event; but the ſea ran too high to admit of it. The ſhip drifted directly before the wind until within a ſmall diſtance of the craggy ſhore juſt below Herring-Cove, where ſhe foundered—and, terrible to relate (except eleven ſeamen and marines, and one petty officer) every ſoul on board have periſhed!

The number of men belonging to the ſhip is ſtated to have been upwards of 240; excluſive of which, about 16 non-commiſſioned officers and privates of the R.N.S. reg.—Mr. Rackum of the navy yard—and, (we mention with peculiar regret) lieutenant James of the N. S. regiment, an amiable and deſerving young officer, who had gone on board from motives of humanity, met the ſame fate.

La Tribune came out with the Quebec convoy—ſhe is ſaid to have been a moſt beautiful frigate, and was lately captured by the Unicorn, capt. Williams, June 7, 1796.

The Halifax papers contain very lengthy accounts of the above diſaſter, which was attended with many extraordinary circumſtances. Some of them we ſhall give in our next. (Col. Centinel.)

PORT OF PHILADELPHIA.

Extract of a letter from Robert Folger, capt. of the ſhip John, of Boſton.

Sir.

I ſend you this by my pilot, whom I have ſent with my long boat, loaded with paſſengers, to try to land them; he can inform you of the diſtreſſed ſituation of the ſhip John, of Boſton and the unhappy people that are obliged to remain on board of her, expecting every ebb-tide to go to pieces. I left Hamburg the 25th Oct. and got on this Shoal on the 22d inſt. The main and mizen maſts have been cut away, and the ſhip cannot ſtand the ice much longer. Fifty people go in the long boat and forty remain on board. Pleaſe to write to Mr. Benjamin Joy, of Boſton, who is my owner. My cargo is iron, cordage, gin, linen, paſſengers, glaſs, &c. &c. My third officer, Wm. Swain, of Nantucket, with ſix young men, were loſt in the ice on the 21ſt inſtant, in trying to ſave the crew of a ſloop that was ſinking.

The people that left the veſſel in the long boat got on ſhore upon an uninhabited iſland—Nothing further is known.

The brig Anthony, Miller, from Trinidad, came into the Capes the ſame day with the John, and after loſing her anchor and cable on the Brown, bore away for New-York, where ſhe has ſince arrived.

The brig Amiable Matilda, Brown, from hence to Bilboa, was taken within 3 hours ſail of the port by a French row-boat, and carried into Bayonne.

The brig Terrible, Lowell, from Havre to this port, has put into Newport, R. I.

The brig Enterprize, Langdon, from Jamaica, to this port has arrived at New-York.

The ſhip John, now on ſhore in the River, was formerly the Delaware Frigate.

Meſſrs. YUNDT & BROWN,

Gentlemen,

The owner of the ſhip Preſident requeſts you to publiſh the encloſed extract from captain Smith's letter, as alſo a liſt of the ſhippers, for the information of thoſe concerned.

Extract of a letter from Captain John A. Smith, of the ſhip Preſident, dated Porto-Rico, Nov. 22, '97.

"We arrived here the 16th inſt. and am happy to ſay the privateers men are very much diſappointed to find there were new orders reſpecting Americon veſſels and property. The ſhip, no doubt, will be cleared; but the cargo (except the ſale) I expect will be condemned. They have all the letters which they have broke open, and ſay the cargo is Britiſh property, becauſe it was inſured in England. The papers will be ſent to St. Domingo before the veſſel can be cleared or the cargo condemned. Incloſed you will receive a liſt of all the conſinees of the cargo on board. I ſhould have encloſed them when I was taken, but all my papers and the manifeſt of the cargo were taken on board the privateer. I was taken by the brig Triumphant, commanded by Anthony Labo and owned by him."

New-Theatre,

December 11, 1797.

THE MANAGERS particularly request the concurrence of the public in the abolition of a custom, which has hitherto obtained, of giving away or disposing of RETURN CHECKS at the Theatre.

They are aware that gentlemen are unconscious of any wrong done to the interest of the institution by this practice, from a general, though mistaken idea that Checks are the representatives of a right to so many seats in the Theatre, during an Evening's Entertainment, and transferable at will; when in fact, they were never intended as more than tokens by which the Door-keepers are enabled to ascertain with the least trouble to the parties, that they themselves have been before in the Theatre, or paid for their admission.

Independent of the injury the Managers sustain, such a practice encourages a croud of idle boys and other disorderly persons to surround the doors of the Theatre, to the corruption of their morals and the great annoyance of the Audience.

It has also been the source of two evils of no inconsiderable magnitude; one is, that sometimes very improper company is by these means admitted; and the other, that owing to Checks passing into dishonest hands, they have been frequenaly counterfeited to a large amount for the purposes of Sale.

This statement will, it is respectfully hoped, induce the Public to discourage such a traffic: and the exertions of the Managers will, if thus assisted, easily prove adequate to its entire abolition.

The second edition, with improvements,

ADAPTED to the different classes of learners; with an appendix, containing rules and observations for assisting the more advanced students to write with perspicuity and accuracy.

By LINDLEY MURRAY.

"This is a publication of much merit, and fully answers the professions in the Title. The appendix contains some of the best rules for writing elegantly, and with propriety, that we recollect to have seen."

Monthly Review, July 1796.

"This Grammar is, on many accounts entitled to commendatory notice, its materials have been carefully and judiciously selected; its arrangement is distinct and well adapted to the purpose of instruction and its expression is simple, perspicuous and accurate, &c."

See the character at large in the Analytical Review, July 1796.

English Exercises,

Adapted to the Grammar lately published by Lindley Murray, consisting of exemplification of the parts of speech, instances of false orthography, violations of the rules of syntax, defects in punctuation, and violations of the rules respecting perspicuity and accuracy, designed for the benefit of private learners, as well as for the use of schools.

"We have been much pleased with the perusal of these Exercises. They occupy with distinguished excellence a most important place in the science of the English language; and as such, we can warmly recommend them to the Teachers of Schools, as well as to all those who are desirous of attaining correctness and precision in their native tongue."

Late SECRETARY of the TREASURY, is FULLY REFUTED.

WRITTEN BY HIMSELF.

This publication presents a concise statement of the base means practised by the Jacobins of the United States to asperse the characters of those persons who are considered as hostile to their disorganizing schemes. It also contains the correspondence between Mr. Hamilton and Messrs. Monroe, Muhlenburgh and Venable, on the subject of the documents aforesaid, and a series of letters from James Reynolds and his wife to Mr. Hamilton, proving beyond the possibility of a doubt, that the connection between him and Reynolds, was the result of a daring conspiracy on the part of the latter and his associates to extort money.

☞ A discount of one third from the retail price will be made in favor of wholesale purchasers, for CASH. Orders to be addressed to Mr. YOUNG.

IN Perth Amboy in the state of New-Jersey, of four hundred acres, including a proper proportion of meadow, of arable and wood land, and salt marsh: There is on the premises, a good apple orchard, and a variety of other fruit trees, it is well watered with springs and brooks, it is bounded on two sides with navigable waters and has a good mill site, its situation is healthy and pleasant, commanding a view of the navigation of Perth Amboy and its environs, and convenient to the finest fish and oysters in their proper season, it abounds with natural manure from which, with the advantages of the salt marsh by applying the hay therefrom to the keeping of stock, may at a small expense, be enriched to a great degree and rendered one of the first grazing farms in the state, it is well calculated for a farmer or a gentleman's seat, having several eligible sites for building. This farm will be sold together or divided, as may suit a purchaser, at private sale, or if not sold, will be set up at public auction on Tuesday the nineteenth day of December next, at the house of Robert Rattoone, innkeeper in Perth Amboy, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon. Salisbury Estate.

THE Subscriber, proposing to contract his business, offers this Estate for sale, on moderate terms. On it are one Blast and three Air Furnaces, a complete Boreing Machine, and a very good grist Mill, with two pair of stones; also a good Forge, all in perfect repair, as are all the Water Works connected with these various branches. The Air Furnaces were lately built for the purpose of casting Cannon for this State.—There are about two thousand acres of Land, one half of which is under wood, the other very fine arable land, producing the best Hay and Pasture. The Cannon lately manufactured there, fully proves the excellency of the metal, which is superior to any in this country, and probably, equal to any in the world; for not one of sixty-nine guns lately made, although some of the 24 were bored into 32 pounders, have failed on proving. The situation is very eligible, particularly for this branch of manufacture, and a place of arms lying in the state of Connecticut, and only 30 miles from several landings on the Hudson's river, and having every advantage that can result from a plenty of water issuing from a large natural pond, very near the Furnace, and which may be converted into a variety of other useful purposes. The purchaser can be accommodated with all the stock and utensils, and have possession on or before the first of June next, and preparation may be made in the mean time for going into Blast immediately thereafter, for every part will be delivered in good order, with some coal, Ore, &c. &c. For terms, apply to Mr. Joseph Anthony, in Philadelphia; David Brooks, Esq. one of the Representatives in Congress for this State; Mr. David Waterman, on the premises, or to the proprietor in New-York.
